

National Society of Black Engineers

Hello!

Welcome to the National Society of Black Engineers. Thank you for showing interest in our organization!

NSBE is an organization dedicated to helping minority students excel in STEM fields. Our mission is to increase the number of culturally responsible black engineers who excel academically, succeed professionally, and positively impact the community.

If you decide to become a member, you will enjoy exclusive benefits such as access to scholarships, events, technical projects, internship opportunities, the opportunity to travel to conferences, and the chance to enjoy our Member of the Year benefits!

We encourage you to get involved. Come out to our events, bring a friend if you want, get to know us and our members and join our discord to get more involved.
